

Woodside director screens 'Tapestries of Hope'

"Tapestries of Hope," a documentary on young rape survivors in Zimbabwe, directed by Michealene Cristini Risley of Woodside, will be screened simultaneously in more than 100 movie theaters nationwide on Tuesday, Sept. 28.

Locally, a free screening will take place at 7:30 p.m. at the Landmark Aquarius Theatre, 430 Emerson St. in Palo Alto. The public is invited to attend.

The one-hour film focuses on the work done by activist Betty Makoni, founder of the Girl Child Network in Zimbabwe, which aims to empower and protect young women who were raped based on the false belief that sex with a virgin will cure HIV/AIDS, according to a "Tapestries of Hope" press release.

Ms. Risley filmed the documentary in 2007. As a result of her filming, she was jailed, interrogated, and deported from Zimbabwe. She was freed with the help of the U.S. government and escaped with her film footage. In April of this year, Ms. Risley won Silicon Valley's

Michealene Cristini Risley

Women of Influence Award.

The screening is intended to raise awareness of the International Violence Against Women Act and encourage audience members to contact their representatives in Congress to support and fund the legislation, according to the press release.

The screenings are sponsored by a coalition of international organizations, including Something to Talk About, Facebook, and Women Thrive Worldwide. The documentary is being distributed through the Screenvision cinema network.

Church welcomes education leader

Courtney Stange-Tregear is the new director of faith formation at Ladera Community Church in Portola Valley. Her mission is to build intergenerational participation in both worship and education, says Myrtle Carey, a spokesperson for the church.

"As a mother of two young children, she has a personal interest in building faith from the ground up, and thinks Ladera Church provides a rich community in which to nourish spiritual life from young children to adults," says Ms. Carey.

Originally from the Bay Area, Ms. Stange-Tregear received her bachelor's degree from St. John's College in Annapolis, Maryland; her master's degree in research and philosophy of religion from the University of Leeds in the United Kingdom; and her master of divinity degree in worship, theology and the arts from Andover Newton Theological School in Maine.

For the past five years, she has served in Massachusetts as a youth minister and chaplain intern. Most recently, she was interim associate pastor at Foot-hills Congregational Church in

Courtney Stange-Tregear

Los Altos.

"She brings a breadth of experience, an insightful mind, and a passion for nurturing spiritual life and practice for all ages," says the Rev. Lindsay L. Fulmer, who came to the Ladera church as its first female pastor in October 2008.

Ms. Stange-Tregear says that she sees her role as mentor and guide. "Faith is a task for a lifetime," she says. "I will work with members of all ages as we pursue our calls to love, charity, spirituality and justice."

Ladera Community Church is at 3000 Alpine Road in Ladera.

Katie, 11, and her mom, Stanford oncologist Dr. Ellie Guardino.

11-year-old raises $25,000 for mom

Money goes to Komen Foundation to fight breast cancer

This story was submitted by Samantha Lieberman of the Susan G. Komen for the Cure San Francisco Bay Area Affiliate.

Eleven-year-old Menlo Park resident Katie Guardino knows a lot about cancer. She has grown up with a mom who fights breast cancer for a living.

Katie's mother, Stanford oncologist Dr. Ellie Guardino, helps patients extend their lives through advanced treatments and breast cancer clinical trials. She fights for the cure in her lab, where she and other specialists develop vaccines to target specific immunological gene therapies for patients.

One of her specialties is helping young breast cancer patients with future fertility. Dr. Guardino wants every woman to have the chance to experience parenthood as she has with Katie and her two brothers.

She has helped patients successfully harvest their eggs and make embryos before they start chemotherapy and radiation so they have the option of becoming moms in the future. Many of Dr. Guardino's young patients have been blessed with children after their breast cancer fight.

Katie has written hundreds of letters to cheer up her mom's patients over the years, and has helped her mom on the weekends, visiting patients and helping out in mom's lab.

Nothing could have been more of a surprise in 2008 to Katie or her family when her mom received her own diagnosis of Stage 3 melanoma.

Katie helped care for her mom as she struggled through her cancer treatments.

On Sunday, Sept. 26, Katie and her mom walked in the Susan G. Komen Race for the Cure in San Francisco, a 5K walk and run to raise funds for breast cancer research and treatment. About 7,000 people participated and Katie was the No. 1 fundraiser.

Katie sent out letters to friends, family members and teachers with a picture of her and her mom, and received more than $25,000 in donations in support of her walk. The donations continue to roll in.

Katie and her mom were dressed in pink at Sunday's walk, walking hand in hand. Katie's experience writing all those letters to patients prepared her for the individual thank you notes she has written to each and every donor.

"Adults always tell kids that life is not fair," Katie wrote. "I believe that now. My Mom sees patients all day, works in her lab on the weekends, writes grant requests at night after she tucks me and my brothers in bed, and SHE gets cancer?! I hope the money I raised will help my Mom and her patients through the Race for the Cure."

Go to komensf.org for more information. To contribute to Katie's drive, make out the checks to the Komen Foundation, and mail them to Katie Guardino c/o Dr. Ellie Guardino, Stanford Cancer Center, 875 Blake Wilbur Blvd., Stanford, CA 94305. Or go online to is.gd/fw8KV.

Nothing could have been more of a surprise in 2008 to Katie or her family when her mom received her own diagnosis of Stage 3 melanoma.

Case No.: 120473

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of PEARLE E. TRAVIS, also known as PEARLE TRAVIS.

A Petition for Probate has been filed by: ROBERT E. TRAVIS in the Superior Court of California, County of SAN MATEO.

The Petition for Probate requests that: ROBERT E. TRAVIS be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on October 25, 2010 at 9:00 a.m. in Dept.: 28 of the Superior Court of California, County of San Mateo, located at 400 County Center, Redwood City, CA 94063.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Probate Code section 9100. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. Attorney for Petitioner:
